ACT QUICKLY

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger.

In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Ask your neighbor.

Plenty of Norway evidence of their worth.

Albert F. Prescott, shoemaker, Crockett's Bridge, Norway, says: "My kidneys gave out and I had backache so bad it put me past going for several days. I couldn't bend over, I was so stiff and lame. I was working in the ship yards at the time and I blame so much heavy lifting for the starting of my trouble. I had to get up several times during the night to pass the kidney secretions. I felt drowsy all the time. Finally I went to Stone's Drug Store and got three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. This remedy reached my case at once and after using three boxes, the trouble left me entirely. I have felt fine ever since. I can't recommend a better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills."

Prices 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Prescott had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Every motor highway and byway throughout picturesque New England and New York is a part of the long "Socony Trail".

Old Wind Mill, Nantucket, Mass., built in 1746. Between 1723 and 1875 no less than twelve such mills operated upon the island. This was the fourth to be erected, and has outlived its three predecessors which have been destroyed.

THE Socony gasoline sign is more than a symbol of service—it is a pledge of quality. On the island of Nantucket or in the rural towns of northern Vermont, standard quality Socony gasoline is always obtainable—and always satisfactory.

There are different grades of crude petroleum, different methods of refining it and consequently different qualities of the finished gasoline. Socony is refined from selected crude stock, by the most up-to-date and efficient methods known, under standard conditions. It is a fuel of known excellence—clean, uniform, powerful.

For year-round economy and greatest satisfaction, use the same gasoline regularly. With Socony in your tank and the proper carburetor adjustment, you will notice an increase in your monthly mileage average.

Socony quality and service have made motoring a pleasure and gasoline satisfaction a certainty.

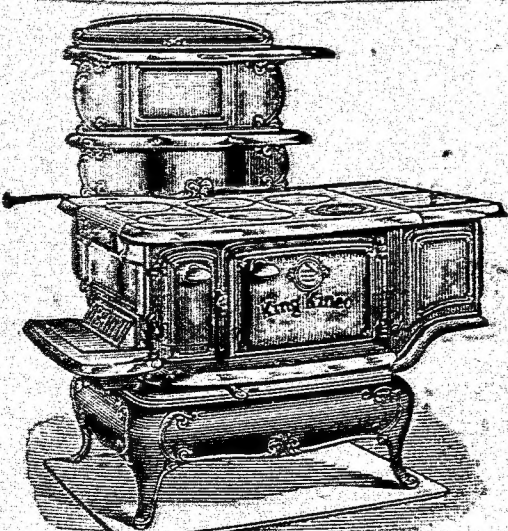

Look for the red, white and blue Socony sign.

EAST SUMMER.

A variety shower was given Gladys Buck Wednesday afternoon of last week, when about thirty-five of her friends met at the home of Mrs. F. S. Palmer, bringing her many useful gifts. Refreshments of cake and punch were served and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed. There were no services at the Congregational Church last Sunday, as Mr. Berkeley was away and unable to return before Monday.

Arthur and Will Heald of South Weymouth, Mass., are visiting their aunt, Ella S. Heald.

O. M. Jones and family are stopping at the "Lucas place," in Hartford.

October Weddings

Richard Palmer and Gladys Buck were married on Saturday morning, Oct. 16, and are spending two weeks at Penness, seavasses Lake, Norway. The groom is a successful dairyman, owning a herd of thoroughbred Guernseys at The Maples. The bride is a nurse, having received her training at the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Bellevue Hospital, New York City. The bride's brother, Donald Buck, and the groom's sister, Muriel Palmer, also F. H. Byron of Yarmouthville, came to attend the wedding.

On the same day, in the evening, Merrill Morrill and Hattie Russell were married. The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. George A. Chandler and the bride is the daughter of Elroy Russell and has for several years been her father's housekeeper. Both couples have the good wishes of their friends.

The B. H. S. students are having an enforced vacation this week, as there are some cases of scarlet fever in Buckfield and the village schools are closed.

Mrs. E. V. Braden was in Ashland, Mass., a few days last week.

Mrs. Nettie Kerr of Rumford, with her son, daughter, and son-in-law, visited her brother and sister, Will and Mary Bryant, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Allen, who have been visiting Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. Lester Robinson, have returned to their home in Auburn.

DIXFIELD

Damaged by Fire

Fire was discovered about midnight, one night, last week, in the home of Etta Holman. The occupants of the house were awakened by the dense smoke and a call for help was given. The quick response of the department saved the buildings from ruin. The damage from fire and water will be heavy.

The Advance club was entertained at home of Mrs. W. G. Guild, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. D. A. Gates acted as leader of the meeting. A paper, "Conquests of William of Normandy and other Norman Kings," by Mrs. Blanche Frost. A sketch, "Condition of People and Society in England, 900-1000," by Mrs. Ada E. Murch. Mrs. C. A. Morris of Portland, who is a guest of Mrs. Guild, gave an interesting article on "Our Immigration Laws, and Getting Through the Gates of Ellis Island," constituted the program for the afternoon. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Harry Holt, wife and two sons, Paul and George, of Livermore Falls, was in town, recently, calling on relatives.

Kenneth Welch, who is working at Livermore Falls, was in town, recently, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Welch.

Mrs. Eda Holt and cousin, Alice Badger, of Farmington, were guests of Mrs. Holt's sister, Mrs. John Holman of Mexico, Friday last week.

Olivia Bradford and family are going to Waterville, where Mr. Bradford will get employment.

Mrs. Jennie White has been to Rumford on business.

Etta Holman, in company with Harry Holt and family of Livermore Falls, has been to Portland, calling at the home of Mrs. Nellie Bessard.

John Holman and wife, and son Roger and wife, were at Topsham fair.

Otto Holt and wife are having their household goods moved from the Henry Knights' rent to the home of Oliver Welch, where they have engaged rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Holt will board at present with Mr. Holt's sister, Mrs. Welch, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owen were in Portland a few days, last week.

WEST GREENWOOD

Mrs. John Kennagh and son Kenneth returned from Portland, Wednesday of last week.

George and William Hadakin of Auburn are spending several days with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison called at the home of Mrs. Nellie Cross, Tuesday.

J. F. Harrington threshed oats in this community the past week.

Leonard Armstrong spent Sunday at W. A. Holt's.

Mrs. Nellie Kennagh and son Tom visited friends out of town, Sunday.

Charles Ramey is at home from Phillips.

W. A. Holt, Lester Swan and Parker Conner attended a dance at Locke's Mills last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Logan and children visited relatives in Albany, Sunday.

The out of town callers for the past week were Mrs. Yeagles and children, Supt. F. E. Russell, Roy Cummings, Haynes Littlefield, F. L. Edwards, Walter Penley, Charles Mills, Al Herrick, Herbert Berrington, Myron Bryant, Garde Herrick and T. B. Burk.

Mr. and Mrs. Machia and Mrs. Ernest Cross were at George Conner's, Sunday.

LOCKE'S MILLS

A. E. Stowell and King Bartlett attended the County Council Organization of Boy Scouts at South Paris, Friday.

$100.00 REWARD

It has been said by those who either have no Maine Gems to sell, or else because of ignorance that there is no such thing as a Maine Gem. My show case is filled with semi-precious stones, mined and cut in Maine, and sold throughout the U. S. in the best stores, including Tiffany & Co. of New York. The above sum will be paid to any person who can prove there are no Maine Gems. I would be perfectly safe in making it a million dollars reward, did I possess that amount of money.

MEMORIAL ADDRESS

The memorial address on the death of James S. Wright, by C. F. Whitman, at the memorial services at the Court House, October 12:

We are being constantly reminded of the instability of all earthly things. We live in a world of change. We are born, we live a short period here and then pass away, but in all there is a hope of a life beyond the grave.

"It must be so, * * * else why this pleasing hope; This fond desire; this longing for immortality! Or whence this sacred dread, this inward horror, falling into naught? Why shrinks the soul Back on itself and stares at destruction? 'Tis the divinity that stirs within us! 'Tis Heaven itself! That points out an hereafter and intimates an eternity to man."

"God will not leave us in the dust. He made man; we know not why; We cannot know, we can but trust; We feel we were not made to die. Time deprives us of our dear ones—one by one. God's ways are beyond our comprehension, yet He did not summon our brother, James S. Wright to the higher court above till his career on earth was finished, and his work here fully completed. I speak from an intimate knowledge of the lawyer and of the man."

We were born on a farm. We obtained our education in the common and high schools of the region where we were reared. We read law in an attorney's office. We were admitted to practice at the same time. He was between three and four years older than I and from that time to his passing away, I looked up to him for counsel and cherished for him, a brotherly affection, such as I have not felt for any other member of this bar. Our purposes in life, our characteristics, our general tastes, our faiths and our principles were much the same. Perhaps, then, it is fitting that I should have been selected by our honored President of the Oxford Bar Association, to pay this tribute to his memory.

James S. Wright served ten years as clerk of this court, and was one of the best who ever held the office. He followed Col. Wm. K. Kimball of courtly manners, who had served with distinction before and after the Civil War. There is no better school than the clerkship of courts, where one can obtain a theoretical knowledge of the practice of the law in all its branches. But if one stays too long, he loses the opportunity to acquire the requisite practical knowledge and the skill to become a trained jury lawyer, if indeed he has it in him and a taste for it.

It is said that Daniel Webster in his early career could have obtained the appointment of clerk of the courts in the county where he resided, but was persuaded not to accept of the office on the ground that he would be likely to stay too long and thus destroy his chances of becoming a great lawyer. He wisely listened to this advice, devoted himself to the practice of his profession and became the most eminent advocate and constitutional lawyer of his time.

James S. Wright was not clerk of the courts too long. As the law then was, a clerk could practice his profession, and he did so, though not extensively. And when he went out of the clerkship, he took up the duties of county attorney and served two terms. This was of the greatest advantage to him, for it gave him the opportunity he sought to acquire the skill to handle, successfully, cases before a jury. In fact, it put him squarely on his feet as a jury lawyer. It was his greatest ambition to become one of the leading jury lawyers at this bar. This he accomplished during the last ten years of his practice. He prepared his cases thoroughly and handled them skillfully and well. He was more than ordinarily successful. He took a great pride in his profession. He had high ideas respecting the duties and responsibilities of a practicing attorney. He had a great regard for the oath he had taken when admitted to the bar. He never instituted any false or ungrounded suits and never oppressed anyone. He brought no worthless actions, to put his docket entries. The lawyers he took for models were Charles W. Walton, Wm. Wirt Virgin and David R. Hastings, who in their day, were leaders and ornaments of the Oxford Bar.

Mr. Wright had a political ambition. Besides holding town and county office he served with much credit in both branches of the State Legislature and as a member of the Governor's Council. This last position he regarded as rounding out his political career. In earlier times, the office of Clerk of the Courts had been regarded in Oxford County as a stepping stone to a Congressional career. Rufus K. Goodenow, Chas. Andrews, and Sidney Perham of the eleven clerks who had preceded Mr. Wright had served in the National House of Representatives and three others, Joseph G. Cole, Wm. K. Kimball and Alvah Black, had been unsuccessful candidates for the same high position. With those examples before him, he may have sometimes thought that the opportunity to secure a seat in Congress might come to him, but I do not think that he ever seriously contemplated it. He made no effort in that direction and laid no foundation for such a career. It took time and persistent effort to place himself among the leading lawyers of the bar, and to this he devoted all his energies.

Mr. Wright had an ambition to acquire a competence, a sufficiency of this world's goods, so that in his old age he would have enough on which to live comfortably and well, and leave something for those of his family, who should survive him, and this ambition was fully satisfied. He was a good and careful business man as well as a good lawyer. The fees he took were moderate and generally much less than he might have charged. His dealings with his clients were beyond criticism.

And finally James S. Wright had a high regard for the respect and confidence of his fellow men. The people who knew him trusted him fully, and this confidence and trust he retained to the last. He wished to be considered as a good citizen and he was all that, and more. He was an affectionate husband, a kind father, and a good neighbor. He had all the virtues of a prominent and leading citizen of his community. It is the glory of our country, that being born in humble circumstances is no bar to rising to position and power. Fortunate conditions it is true, aid in giving opportunities. Men very frequently obtain positions, way beyond their capacity to properly fill, and it may be that few rise to be leaders of men, from merit alone. Gov. John D. Long once said that the common idea of great men was to his mind, a misconception. He had doubtless measured himself with other men he had met in public life, and found them not above his level. Still he must have felt, scholar that he was, that there had been those in the world's history, in fields of activity, in letters, in statesmanship and in science and art, who had risen to such eminence, that they stand out, above the mass of men like lofty peaks in a mountain range. Such, whether justly or otherwise, are called great. Who in literature has ever equalled the writer of the "Great Plays"? What orator has ever surpassed Demosthenes? What leader of armies has ever even approached Hannibal or Bonaparte? And yet King Alfred of blessed memory, who saved the English nation and the English language from perishing from the earth, and our own George Washington, who did so much to secure our Independence and establish our Free Government were not considered in their times to be eminent men or great leaders. And the Pilgrim Fathers, who signed the compact of government in the cabin of the Mayflower 300 years ago which is the foundation of our liberties destined through the ages to profoundly influence all races and nations of men beyond anything in civil government ever written were apparently but ordinary men.

The greatest credit that can be given any man is that he made of himself all that was in him; that he developed to the utmost, all his powers and capabilities. This, James S. Wright did. He was a fortunate man; fortunate in his principles inherited from his good old New England ancestors; fortunate in the circumstances and conditions which surrounded him through life, fortunate in the bounds he set to his purposes and ambitions, and fortunate in his wife and children. His career was a success. He accomplished what he sought to attain. He acquired what, as a young man, he had set out to get. The goal ahead he had kept constantly and steadily in mind. There had been no wavering, no hesitation, no doubt. Patiently and industriously he forged ahead and through a long life of more than three score years and ten, and here at the close of his career, his profession, he had kept his integrity unstained and his honor untarnished.

Who shall measure the satisfaction he felt when the great objects of his life had been fully accomplished? I can only do so in part. Such a life is worthy of all emulation and is priceless in the community where he lives.

James S. Wright could well contemplate the passing of existence here with satisfaction and say for himself with John Quincy Adams, when the final stroke came: "This is the last of earth. I am content." Or with the good "Gray Poet,"

"The ship is anchored safe and sound; Its voyage is closed and done; From favored port, the gallant ship Comes in with object won."

For us, he might well have said with Tennyson:

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning at the bar,
When I put on to see
Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark,
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark."

There is no death, a star goes down,
Walk o'er the earth with silent tread,
They have not loved ones away,
And then we call them dead.

There is no death, a star goes down,
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown,
It shines forevermore."

FROM FORTY-FIVE TO SIXTY

A Word of Help to Women of Middle Age From Mrs. Raney.

Morse, Okla.—"When I was 45 years old Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carried me through the critical period of the Change of Life in safety. I am over 60 and have raised a family of eight children and am in fine health. My daughter and daughters-in-law recommend your Vegetable Compound and still take it occasionally myself. You are at liberty to use my name if you wish."—Mrs. ALICE RANEY, Morse, Oklahoma.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. This good old-fashioned root and herb remedy may be relied upon to overcome the distressing symptoms which accompany it and women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

USE SLOAN'S TO WARD OFF PAIN

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good

"If I only had some Sloan's Liniment!" How often you've said that! And then when the rheumatic twinge subsided—after hours of suffering—you forgot it!

Don't do it again—get a bottle today and keep it handy for possible use tonight! A sudden attack may come on—sciatica, lumbago, sore muscles, backache, stiff joints, neuralgia, the pains and aches resulting from exposure. You'll soon find warmth and relief in Sloan's, the liniment that penetrates without rubbing. Clean, economical. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Again the silent messenger of Death has broken our fraternal chain and taken our Brother, member, John H. Allen.

We, the members of Waterford Grange No. 479, extend our heartfelt sympathy and love to the bereaved family.

The removal of our young brother leaves a vacancy in our ranks in his home that will long be remembered. But let us remember our Father in Heaven doeth all things well.

Resolved: That a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the family, one placed on our records, and one sent to the Norway Advertiser for publication, and our charter be draped for thirty days.

HEBRON ACADEMY VS. WESTBROOK SEMINARY

The championship season of the Maine Intercollegiate League opens Saturday, October 23rd, when Westbrook Seminary opposes Hebron Academy at Hebron. The Academy fellows do not expect an easy game, but they are out to win. They have cleaned up everything in the State so far, and lost only to Exeter by the small score of 14-0.

Coach Dryer has had the men out every afternoon drilling them in the plays, which are expected to bring victory to the Green and Grey next Saturday. The probable line-up at the start will be B. Soule and Davis, ends; Capt. Getchell and Paton, tackles; Allen and Lewis, guards; with Prince at the pivot position. The back-field will be composed of Coulter, Dewhurst, H. Soule and Hamill.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:15 and a large crowd from all around is expected to see the game, as it is rumored that Westbrook has an all round splendid team of new men, and are out to clean up the State this fall in football.

Hiram Ricker & Sons of South Poland are advertising for twenty men. See ad.

Veranda Club Notes

The Veranda Club met with Mrs. Agnes McCready, Wednesday evening, October 13, with good attendance as this was the annual meeting. Some very interesting reports were made. Mrs. Nellie Merrill chairman of the quilt committee, reported the Club had made and tacked 14 quilts in the past year, also the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Pres.—Helen Canwell.
Vice Pres.—Laura Everett.
Sec.—Virginia Murdoch.
Treas.—Clara Jordan.

It was also voted to hold a sale at the room formerly occupied by A. L. Cook, Friday afternoon, October 22, at 3 o'clock, of cooked food, aprons and candy. The prize quilt will be disposed of the lucky number wins the quilt.

After the business meeting the hostess invited the members to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served.

Annual Fair

The Ladies' Circle of the 2nd Congregational Church will hold their annual fair on Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 14 and 15. The program of the various tables are as follows:

Universalist Church Notes

The officers and teachers of the Sunday school met at the home of the Superintendent, W. Mafori Mann, Tuesday evening, Oct. 31 was decided upon as the date for Rally Day, which had been postponed on account of the illness of the pastor, Rev. C. G. Miller.

Rev. Mr. Markley of West Paris occupied the pulpit Sunday, and gave a fine sermon from the text, "When I became a man I put away childish things."

There will be preaching service at the church, next Sunday, at the usual hour.

The Ladies Sewing Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. B. G. McIntire, Friday afternoon of this week.

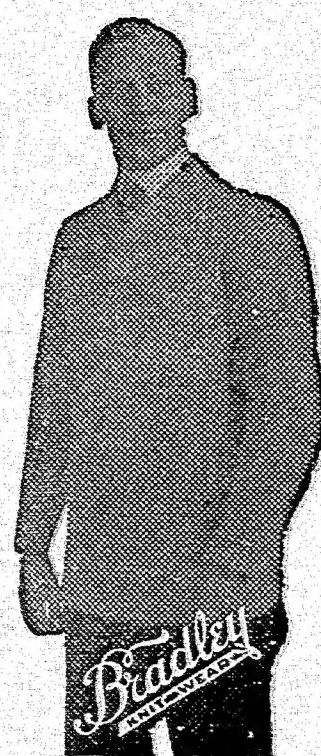

The annual Christmas sale by the Ladies Circle will be held Dec. 8 and 9.

Methodist Church Notes

At the close of the Sunday school, last Sunday, the presentation of a gift to G. Ralph Harriman, the retiring Superintendent, who is leaving for California, this week, was made by the pastor. Before Mr. Sullivan presented the gift, which was a beautiful watch chain with gold knife attached, three little girls after reciting appropriate verses, presented Mr. Harriman with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. We are sorry indeed to lose Mr. and Mrs. Harriman from our church and Sunday school workers.

The church prayers and good wishes of the church go with Mr. and Mrs. Harriman to their new home in the West.

Clara Lewis is visiting her sister, Mrs. Andrews of Casco, and is going to school there.

Jesse Lewis is now working at Westbrook, where he is thinking of moving his family. Mrs. Lewis is much better. She has been having a bad time of asthma, this fall.

OXFORD

The Robinson Manufacturing Co. mill is shut down for a while on account of building a new dye house.

Leon E. Cash of Buckfield, supervisor of schools, was in town on Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Georgia Cash has recently returned from Portland and has gone to C. S. Hayes' to care for Jennie Hayes, who is an invalid.

Otha Holden and mother, Mrs. Emma Holden, are on an auto trip to visit friends in Massachusetts. They were accompanied by Mrs. Holden's sister, Nellie Lebrun, and Ernest Caldwell.

Mrs. Gertrude Thayer of South Paris was in town on Monday.

J. L. Adams, bookkeeper at the woolen mill, is very sick with pneumonia.

Much interest is manifested in the revival meetings being held by Frances B. Adams. The Methodist vestry was well filled on Sunday night with an appreciative audience. Next Sunday evening Miss Adams will preach a sermon on the ten commandments. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the privilege of hearing this talented lady evangelist.

Rudolph Walker has bought the house on Republican Avenue, owned by Al Twitchell and taken possession.

Several members of the T. A. Roberts W. R. C. will attend the meeting for instruction at Mechanic Falls on Tuesday.

THOUGHT THE END WAS NEAR FOR HIM

Everything He Ate Felt Like Lead In His Stomach, Declares Farmer

"It has only taken two bottles of Taulac to put me into fine shape, and there must be thousands of people in much the same fix I was in who would be glad to hear about my experience with the medicine," said Charles H. Smith, well known farmer and riverman, living at Riverside Drive, R. F. D. No. 1, Augusta, Me.

"For about ten years I suffered with indigestion which became so bad that I thought I would die. Everything I ate would lie on my stomach and ferment and form gas that bloated me up until I could scarcely breathe and my heart beat like a trip-hammer. After every meal I had pains in the pit of my stomach for hours, and I fell off in weight until I was a mere shadow. My rest at night was very disturbed and I just felt tired and worn out all the time. I was badly constipated and often had spells of dizziness. I tried medicines of all kinds, but never found a thing to help me until I got hold of Taulac."

"The very first bottle gave me relief and by the time I had got through with the second I could eat anything I wanted and never suffer in the least with pain or indigestion. I have already gained seven pounds in weight and am feeling as well as any man could wish. I am no longer troubled with constipation or dizziness and sleep like a log every night."

Taulac is sold in Norway by A. L. Clark Drug Co., in West Paris by S. T. White, and by O. H. Haskell, Sweden, R. F. D. Harrison, and Kidder Bros., Peru.

WAYSIDE SKETCHES

A ride through Greenwood, via Mud Pond, and the City makes you feel lonely. It brings to mind so much of past glory and lost hopes you are glad when Locke's Mills and the Steam road is reached. Here there is thrift and business activity, even though in the town of Greenwood.

Over Patch Mountain is a scene more desolate. One family occupies one farm where a few years back—within my memory—there were at least a half dozen farms and families and a school-house reasonably well filled with children, there is none. Why this abandonment?

All the cross roads and a portion of the Old County road leading to Bethel have become winter logging trails, and are impassable in the summer.

The road going over Young Hill is closed, as are the branch roads going from it. The "hollow route" through the "Bitter Opening" to West Paris has been passable to Ford cars and the mail man, this summer. How long this will continue is uncertain.

There is a reason for this I'll not state it. The grove near West Bethel is used for a public lunch ground, principally by auto parties. I should have said "Allens." That is the name on the depot. We recently dined there with Mr. and Mrs. William C. Leavitt, Walter C. Smith, wife and two sons, and Mother.

Another auto party of seven were there. Walter E. Holden and wife, his son Otto B., wife and three children, with Mr. Caldwell, all of Oxford. Before leaving Mr. Cole of the Auburn Cash Market and three ladies arrived. They were on their way to Bethlehem, N. H., and expected to be away from the city a couple of days or so.

We have lunched there twice before and met others there each time, hence the conclusion that this is a favorite "Auto Lunch Grounds."

Otto Holden was operated on for a serious case of appendicitis, last spring, and is making a good recovery.

Joseph Lary and wife house broke dogs and piled up rock at Round Pond for 7 years. They left 8 years ago and went to live in Gilead. We recently called on them and found they had 30 bushels of potatoes in the cellar and a French baby in the house. Joe gets $4.00 a day working on the road and says he can do as good a day's work as any man he can hire. The baby is a little over 30 months old and is motherless, and is being cared for by Mrs. Lary. Its father is a Mr. Billedeau, who works in the woods for Geo. E. Leighton.

Walker's Mills, so-called, is now a place in Bethel without mills. The road through it is good. Rafe Virgin was the last one to successfully operate a mill there. He went to Rumford more than 20 years ago and has become a wealthy man, I am told. The canal that leads from the dam is gone, also the dam and mill pond is no more. The mill in which croquet sets were made has fallen down and been hauled off.

"Pad-lock on the door" has given place to a night lock, or at any rate it is gone.

From Bethel Hill to the Steam mill the road is poor. The worst there is between Norway and Gilead.

The Steam mill is a birch mill and all things connected therewith, long prosperous. We didn't see June Skellings, but understand he is operating the mill and making money. The look indicates it.

"Do you really suppose that chimney was built in 1787?" That question was asked when we passed a house having that inscription on its chimney. I flatly said "no." I may be wrong and if so am willing to be corrected.

The prettiest river and landscape view of the Androscoggin is from the road between Allens and Gilead. No one will dispute it. Many are thrown into fits when they see it. It didn't affect me that way as I have seen it many times before.

All the brooks we passed are trout streams. Some fish are taken from them each season, but the number is growing less and less. From Norway to Gilead there are a score of such brooks. I like the brooks in Greenwood best as I am better acquainted with them. From them last spring, I got 19 1-2 ounces of dressed trout. Think of it!

We returned from Gilead on the north side of the river, crossing over on the Wire Bridge. This was our first trip down that side of the river. We were surprised at the number of good farms. The road, though in places narrow, was good. Saw mill activities are in progress in two places. Pine is being cut. Whether both operations are on Prof. W. R. Chapman's lots I do not know, but the one near Mayville I know is.

Eldritch Joslyn entertained a party of twelve school girls at the Joslyn cottage, Poland Camp Grounds, from Friday afternoon until Sunday night. Eloise Hunt, teacher of their grade, was a member of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lang of Somerville, Mass., came Thursday and visited with friends a few days, and on Monday went to Harry Packard's camp at Hobbs Pond to stop, as he said, "until cold weather drove them out." The Langs enjoy a visit here, each year.

Mrs. Rowena Swan has returned to her home on Crescent street after spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Linnie Bartlett. Mrs. Swan's health is not very good, this fall. Her daughter, Helen S. Swan, has been taking a short vacation from her work at the post office.

Mrs. Fred E. Morse and grandson, Norman Drake, who have been spending the summer at their cottage on the top of Pike Hill, have gone to Boston for the winter.

John P. Woodman has received word that his sister, Mrs. C. F. Willey of Arlington, Mass., is critically ill. Mrs. Willey suffered a severe shock of paralysis, a few weeks ago, while at Intervale, N. H., where she and her husband had been spending the summer. She was removed to her home in Arlington.

Mrs. H. E. Lourd and Mrs. L. C. Barnes of Keosauqua, N. H., were visiting a two weeks' visit with their sister, Mrs. J. Waldo Nash of Pleasant street.

Harriet McQuillan of Portland has gone to Boston, where she is to do domestic work, this winter, and will be located at the Frances Willard house. Miss McQuillan spent the past summer at Lake Penesseewassee, occupying the "Grey Gables."

Coal-Steam Power vs. Water Power Costs

as Shown by the Cost of Pumping Water in Bath

1918	$20,303.80	9 1-2 months with coal and 2 1-2 with electricity
1919	$10,590.26	12 months with electricity
	$ 9,713.54	Saving from use of electricity

(Report of Superintendent Walter F. Abbott, Bath Water District)

MANUFACTURERS who use steam to turn the wheels of their factories are today facing figures like these above—with the full knowledge that coal conditions will never be much better and before long will be worse.

The easily mined, high-grade coal in the East is dwindling! Industries must move where water power is available.

Industries will come to Maine—IF WATER POWER IS DEVELOPED. They will bring property, pay rolls and prosperity to the Pine Tree State.

Will YOU Profit if YOUR TOWN Profits?

If so, then your own pocket book is directly affected by the development of Maine Power.

Why not invest, therefore, in Central Maine Preferred—the security which Maine Investors are buying to finance the development of Maine power.

At any rate, will it not pay you to use the coupon and learn more of what Central Maine Power Company is doing to promote the prosperity of Maine and to furnish a safe investment for Maine people?

Please send me information about your security and the savings plan for buying it.

Bear Mountain Grange

Bear Mountain Grange, No. 62, met Oct. 9, with Worthy Master Chas. S. Hamlin in the chair. The degrees of Harvest and Home were conferred upon a class of candidates and a harvest feast was served. A number of visitors from Bridgton and other Granges were present. After supper a short entertainment was enjoyed. The choir sang several times. Ethel Monroe gave a vocal solo with an encore. Her. Mr. Jones made a few remarks suitable to the occasion, followed by several members from Bridgton and Past Master L. E. McIntire. The hall was decorated for the evening in a charming and suitable manner with autumn leaves, flowers, fruit and vegetables. This was the work of two members of Bear Mt. Grange, Lydie Johnson and Frances Grover. The Grange gave a rising vote of appreciation and thanks to these sisters.

The next regular meeting will be on Saturday evening, Oct. 23. The program will consist of two periods not less than twenty minutes in length, these periods in charge of two committees as follows: Elinor Saunders, Beulah Holden, Ethel Swett, Ethel Monroe, Lulu Pinkham, and Harold Pike, Clinton Kilgore, John Kingman, Harold Kimball, Percy Kimball. The company present will decide which committee presents the best program and the losers will furnish some sort of treat.
